ITEMS AT THE COURTS.

Three owners of fishing boats were fined $80 inclusive by Commissioner C. W.
Beckwith, R. N., at the Marine Court this morning, for disobeying the orders of the Harbour Master by refusing to show their licenses. Nine others were discharged.

Detective Sergt. Murphy arrested a man on board the s.s. Shin Lee for being in possession of a portion of a revolver, and 496 rounds of ammunition, which were found concealed in a box with a false bottom. A fine of $100 was imposed and the arm confiscated.

A Chinese revenue officer arrested a native on the Praga on a charge of being in unlawful possession of 700 bottles of cognac, valued at about $800. He stated that he was carrying the stuff for another man. At the Magistracy a fine of $2,000 was inflicted, or a year's hard labour. The cognac was also confiscated.

Recently an armed robbery took place at Li Yuen Street and in the scuffle a girl fell over the verandah and sustained injuries which necessitated her removal to hospital.
Three men were subsequently arrested but the girl could not identify them. One of the men was, however, found to be in possession of a revolver, and at the Magistracy today he was fined $100 for this offence, the other two being released.

P. C. Wilson was accosted by a beggar outside the Stag Hotel on Saturday and when the mendicant found that he was to be arrested he offered the constable a bribe of $2. At the Police Station it was found that the man had no less than $40 on him.
He was this morning ordered to pay $5 for begging and $100 for attempted bribery.
The alternative to the last fine was a term of three months in prison.

TORTURE.

It will be remembered that some few weeks ago we recorded a sad state of affairs at Tai Tung on the North River, where there had been a big fight between the two clans, Leau and Lo. This fight originated because the one side wished to build a market on a certain spot, and the other side, fearing that this would interfere with its prosperity, opposed the move. The result was a big quarrel and about two hundred houses were burnt down, or otherwise destroyed. We saw some accounts in the native papers of the way in which the Shanhai magistrate is dealing with some of the ringleaders who were arrested at the time. It is well known that torture is not supposed to be allowed in Chinese courts nowadays, but the reports of what is going on in this particular trial show, if they are true, that there is no improvement in this respect.
The prisoner, whose examination lies before us, was subjected to the old torture.
He was trussed, tied up, to the beams, by the hands, then hung up by the neck, and in other ways tortured. It is said that when he was released he was nearly dead, and his face was the colour of the earth on which he lay.

A Talk on Hall's Distemper.

HALL'S Distemper continues to grow in popularity both at home and abroad.

The widely increased demand during the past year has been another great tribute to its sterling worth. Leading Architects and Builders are specifying it more than ever, and it has been selected for use in a great many of the leading public buildings such as The Tower of London, The Royal Mint, The Royal Hospital, Chelsea; The War Office, The Admiralty, The National Gallery, The British Museum, The General Post Office, The Offices of Woods and Forests, etc., and in Buckingham and St. James' Palaces.

While a description of Hall's Distemper is no doubt superfluous, we beg to remind Architects, Builders, and Householders of the following special points:

It is made in two qualities—The Inside quality is the modern scientific substitute for wall-paper; it makes a more artistic, practical, and healthier wall covering altogether.

The Outside quality is fully weather resisting, it can be used on wood work, iron work, brick work, stone, etc., and can be painted or varnished.

Hall's Distemper no doubt owes a great deal of its popularity to its ease of application and great covering power, resulting in economy in both material and labour costs. 1 cwt. will cover double the surface of 1 cwt. pure white lead, and it dries evenly, overcoming the difficulty of obtaining a uniform tint on plain walls.

There is no wall covering so hygienic as Hall's Distemper. It contains a powerful germicide, and when applied it is instant death to all insect life. It is washable after three weeks by being lightly sponged with warm water.

Special Note.—Hall's Distemper should not be confused with the many so called Washable Distempers now offered for sale, nor with that class of material which requires elaborate preparation of walls. Hall's Distemper is a unique preparation with entirely distinct advantages, and is made only by Sisson Brothers & Co., Ltd., Hull, and London. Sole Agents for South China.

A world wide hunt is going on for the Tintinnian anarchist known as Peter the Painter, who took a leading part in the Houndsditch murders. Suspects have been tracked and arrested in mistake for Peter the Painter both in Naples and in France, but the Police declare the man is still in hiding in London. Recently a hundred armed police raided the Tintinnian End, a cordon of men surrounding the neighbouring streets. Detectives searched several houses. A Russian who is supposed to be a friend of Peter the Painter was arrested, also a girl, but so far the miscreant himself remains undiscovered.

SCOTTISH LETTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) DUNDEE, January 24.

ROYAL VISIT TO HOLYROOD.

For some time past it has been understood that the King and Queen would pay a visit to the Scottish Capital on some convenient date close following up the Coronation. The semi official announcement that their Majesties will hold a levee and Court in Holyrood Palace has not therefore come as a surprise. The exact date is not yet fixed, but possibly it will be in the month of July.

It is expected that their Majesties will reside in Holyrood during their stay in Edinburgh. This points to the visit being a short one as the accommodation in the Palace is not sufficient for any lengthened residence. The Board of Works are at present busy redecorating and refurbishing the interior of the Palace and making it suitable for the purposes of a Court. No structural changes of importance are necessary; the living apartments are as spacious and hand-some as the historic rooms are venerable and impressive. But arrears of work have accumulated with the years. In its domestic arrangements the Palace in its present state is left by the decorator and engineer of the Early Victorian period. When the Queen and the Prince Consort resided in it for a brief time, the rooms were arranged according to their wishes. Since then it has hardly been touched till the Board of Works lately took it in hand. Before July, however, it will be freshened and brightened. And the sanitary-ware which prevented King Edward from living in it is now only an unpleasant recollection.

It is practically settled that the ceremonies in connection with the opening and dedication of the Chapel of the Knights of the Thistle will be performed during the State visit to Edinburgh. The Chapel, which is connected with St. Giles's Cathedral, is rapidly approaching completion. His late Majesty took a personal interest in its erection, and went over and approved of the plans. Had he lived, it was his intention to inaugurate the new Chapel, and King George, as head of the Order, will now take the principal part in the ceremony.

KING EDWARD MEMORIAL.

Holyrood will be the site of the King Edward Memorial, if the decision of the Executive Committee is approved. The establishment of a school of tropical medicine and the alternative proposals of Lord Rosebery, that Linlithgow Palace be made a National Museum or that a Scottish National Library be established, have all either dropped. The only scheme which entered into competition with Holyrood was that of various counties or unions in Scotland in each of which there should be erected a sanatorium for the treatment of consumption, and the Committee, by a majority, have declared against it.

Some may cling to the opinion that the Memorial should be embodied in the form of a minaret, and may recall the saying of Mill, that the difficulty of doing good all round is no reason for not attempting all the good that is possible. But however reluctant the admission may be, the impracticability of the design to associate a city with the national monument, at least in Scotland, has been proved to the satisfaction of the Committee. The provision of hospital accommodation, they say, would only be the first step; it alone would cost £2,000,000, and would only be the shell of the Memorial. A large annual maintenance fund would be required. What hope is there of the success of a great voluntary effort of the kind? Are our existing hospitals well supplied with funds? The Committee, with great regret, had to answer in the negative.

The Holyrood proposal is not the large and elaborate and costly one that was first thought of. It is merely to rebuild the old Abbey Port at the foot of the Canon, the Gothic Gate erected by a "guid" Abbe in the fifteenth century and demolished in the eighteenth with no more notice than if it had been a wooden shed. The cost would be reasonable, £80,000. A further proposal is to buy up the surrounding property and open up a spacious "place" in front of the Palace. The Royal stables, a modern erection would be removed, as well as a number of old buildings of no great importance. The whole subject of the Memorial, however, will come before a full meeting of the General Committee in the course of a few days, when a definite resolution will, it is expected, be arrived at.

CANADA AND THE FAR EAST.

"Canada is stretching out for the trade with the Far East," says the Glasgow Herald, and "and" has been especially cheered by the declaration of a Japanese Minister that Japan, with its sixty millions of inhabitants, is the natural and best market for Canadian produce. The commerce between the two countries is at present small, and tea, silk, and rice are the principal articles of import into the Dominion, while flour, fish, and metals are the exports. But Canadians say that Japan can consume large quantities of other Canadian products, as well as more of what she is accustomed to take. Western Canada hopes to develop a large trade both with Japan and China, in flour, which is shipped in increasing quantities from the United States both to Hongkong and direct to China. Not much of this flour is sent either direct or indirect to North China, but it goes more and more freely into South China, Indo-China, the Straits, Java, and the Philippines, via Hongkong; and Canada means to try to secure this trade as well as that of Japan. For some four or five years past, Australia has been supplying flour to China and the Philippines, but this trade seems to have been further declining than increasing of late. The opportunity for Australia rests in the fact that its flour season is at the other end of the year from the American season, and in the Tropics flour cannot be kept long, and is indeed bought for immediate consumption. But although circumstances are in favour of Australia, for half the year the Americans have managed to secure more and more of the trade by making use of Hongkong for storage until distribution. This is where Canada hopes to step in. The growth of wheat consumption in the Far East suggests some curious economic possibilities.

RAIDING A CHINESE GAMBLING DEN AT CARDIFF.

Thirty Chinamen were recently captured by the Cardiff police during a raid on a gambling den in But-street, an old-fashioned house near the docks.

The house, kept by a Chinaman named Ling Kow, assisted by a fellow-countryman named Wan Kung, had long been kept under observation, and the place was surrounded by a large force of police. It was known that the doors were heavily barred, and that a Chinaman was always posted on sentry, so the police attacked the place from the back. Scaling a high wall, a detective dropped into the yard, and slipped back the bolts. The house was "rushed," and at the same time other officers kept guard on the front door to prevent the flight of the Chinamen.

In one of the rooms the police found 30 Chinamen taking part in Fan-tan. Near by was an altar before which a light was burning, and two beds, which had apparently been recently occupied by opium smokers.

Taken by surprise, the Chinamen bolted in all directions, two attempting to get out of the front windows on to a balcony, but eventually all were rounded up and marched to the police station.

An enormous quantity of gaming books, and several journeys had to be made by constables with hand-trucks to remove the "library" to the station.

In the back room, apparently the private room of Ling Kow and Wan Kung, there were a safe and several boxes. Wan, who confessed that he was the "banker," opened the safe, and from it was taken several bags of money, both English and Chinese, more books, and a quantity of gaming implements. Under a coat, thrown on a washstand, was found a half-dozen of Chinese money.

A lottery was conducted in a back room, apparently on the most businesslike lines.

There was a "cage," or screened-in portions of the room, in which the "banker" for fan-tan and the lottery "chief" operated. Chinese papers marked for dice throwing, coloured inks, knives and knuckle-dusters were found here.

The kitchen was fitted up with fan-ban tables, and pushed up the chimney was a box containing more gaming tools. In the hole, about the size of half-a-crown. From this hole was extracted a bullet, which a few weeks ago was fired by one of the gamblers at another as the sign of a quarrel over the game.

Ling Kow was told to leave the place. Waving his hands around, he said dramatically, "All open! Me stop and look after the place. No, no; you don't want me."

"But we do," responded the police-inspector, who promised to put somebody in charge. Without more ado, Ling donned his overcoat, and with a faint smile followed the officers to the station.

The story of the police raid was told before the stipendiary, Mr T. W. Lewis. Of all the people in court the least concerned appeared to be Ling Kow and Wong Kung, charged with using 190, But-street as a common gaming house; Wong Pang and Ah Sark, charged with assisting; and Harry Chui, charged with acting as the banker. Twenty-five others were summoned as "frequenters," all of whom pleaded guilty to having frequented the place in and outside the court.

Inspector Davies declared that fan-tan was not a game of skill but of chance, and added that £330 was found in small banks in the house. Amongst the exhibits produced by the inspector was a fan-tan apparatus.

Ling Kow and Wong Kung were each fined £100 and costs, or three months imprisonment; Wong Pang and Ah Sark £10 and costs each or one month; and Harry Chui £50 and costs, or two months.

In imposing these penalties the stipendiary said defendants claimed to be the British subjects, born in Hongkong, but he disbelieved them. They would be treated as aliens and sent out of the country. His worship ordered all the gaming paraphernalia to be destroyed.

The frequenters were each bound over in £5 to be of good behaviour and not frequent a gaming house again.

RAIDING A CHINESE GAMBLING DEN AT CARDIFF.

Thirty Chinamen were recently captured by the Cardiff police during a raid on a gambling den in But-street, an old-fashioned house near the docks.

The house, kept by a Chinaman named Ling Kow, assisted by a fellow-countryman named Wan Kung, had long been kept under observation, and the place was surrounded by a large force of police. It was known that the doors were heavily barred, and that a Chinaman was always posted on sentry, so the police attacked the place from the back. Scaling a high wall, a detective dropped into the yard, and slipped back the bolts. The house was "rushed," and at the same time other officers kept guard on the front door to prevent the flight of the Chinamen.

In one of the rooms the police found 30 Chinamen taking part in Fan-tan. Near by was an altar before which a light was burning, and two beds, which had apparently been recently occupied by opium smokers.

Taken by surprise, the Chinamen bolted in all directions, two attempting to get out of the front windows on to a balcony, but eventually all were rounded up and marched to the police station.

An enormous quantity of gaming books, and several journeys had to be made by constables with hand-trucks to remove the "library" to the station.

nan of the why and wherefore of the situation, accompanying the message with a gentle reminder that his undue inclination to read into the incident a sinister motive was wholly unwarranted and requesting him to ally public opinion on the matter. The latest news is that the Viceroy has tendered his resignation.

The whole affair is illuminating as showing the frame of mind in which the Provincial authorities of the Middle Kingdom at present find themselves. They appear to live in a constant nightmare of fear of foreign aggression, and in such circumstances it is not a difficult matter to invest an act of grace with motives of the basest order. In the case under notice there appears to be some very considerable division of opinion as to whether even the town reported to be occupied by British troops is in Chinese territory at all. Our telegram spoke of the place in the name of "Binna," but evidently it is the border town of Pien-ma which is referred to. Such maps as are available throw but little light on the question of this town, but from well-informed quarters fairly strong reasons have been advanced to prove that Pien-ma is quite outside Chinese jurisdiction. If this be so then the "scare" is still more unjustified, and we sincerely hope that sensation-mongers in Yunnan, and in Canton, also, will grasp the moral which the incident points. In matters such as these the vernacular Press can perform a real public service by refusing to be drawn into the vortex of spitefully-engineered and wholly unwarrantable agitations and by fearlessly exercising the saving grace of discretion. Is it too much to hope that the day is at hand when the journalists of China will apprehend the true function of their high calling and the full potentialities of their influence on the public mind? Until such a time arrives the Press of the Middle-Kingdom will prove itself a distinct danger rather than what it should be—a boon and a blessing.

An expert supplies figures in the Sing Sing Opinion, showing that there are now a million Para rubber trees in various stages of growth in Cochin-China, three-fourths of which were planted before 1910. Many companies are now embarking in rubber growing, but it is not eight years or so before the Cochin-China output will make a good show.

The King has given his patronage to this year's Rubber Exhibition in London and the President is Sir Henry Blake. All the countries producing rubber will be represented, and the various Governments interested have also nominated delegates to attend a series of conferences between planters, scientists, chemists and manufacturers, the list of which already contains over 200 names.

At the next meeting of the Union Church Literary Club, to be held on Thursday next, several songs from Shakespeare will be sung to illustrate the lecture, which deals with music and musical instruments in Shakespeare's day. Glasgow shipowners report that the Standard Oil Company have chartered about a score of steamers to carry oil from the United States to China, Japan, and Australia ports. This is, apparently, in reply to the recent chartering by the Royal Dutch-Shell Company of seven vessels to carry petrol from America to China, to compete with the Standard Oil Company. As a result of the competition freights have risen materially.

A Wallington telegram states that when the Kaiman, Maro, the Japanese Antarctic Exploration vessel, arrived, a little difficulty arose, for there is no one on board the Kaiman Maro who can speak English, and on the other hand, there is nobody in Wallington who understands Japanese. In the end the Chinese Consul assisted them and she got the coal and stores she wanted.

CORRESPONDENCE.

INCONSISTENCY.

(To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL.") Sir,—Your issue of Saturday night provided a nice little study on the inconsistency of the powers-that-be in dealing with the gambling question. In one column there was a detailed report showing "dividends" paid to those who patronized the "Off Day" and openly indulged in betting to their heart's content. In the adjoining column there was a story of a raid which the police had made on a few poor Chinese who were having a quiet "futtler," and the tragic ending thereof, two men losing their lives in their endeavor to escape and three others receiving injuries which had to be attended to at the hospital.

Now, Sir, how long is this travesty of justice to be tolerated in the Colony? What's sauce for the goose should be sauce for the gander. But no—betting is sanctioned not only at the Racecourse but also in most of the Clubs, whilst at the same time the police are engaged in continually harassing the small Chinese found enjoying a like diversion on stakes which pale into insignificance beside the sums laid out by many a European assistant who can ill-afford to play with money as many a one has done this last week.

Does the Government prosecute gamblers because of the "moral" harm of the recreation, or merely in order to rake in a little revenue from the fines? If the former, then surely there is just ground for taking action at the Races, where many a man absolutely loses his head in his anxiety to "spot winners." If the latter, all I can say is that there are many fields ignored in Hongkong which have long been ripe for the reaping-time, some in the most select quarters, too. It is assuredly a sad reflection on British justice that this palpable discrimination is shown.—Yours, etc., FAIR AND SQUARE.

TRIAL TRIPS OF A NEW MOTOR BOAT.

On Sunday afternoon a new motor boat recently built in Shanghai by the Vulcan Iron Works Ltd., to the order of Messrs. Garner, Quetch and Co., underwent her speed trials over the measured mile in Kowloon Bay. The boat is named The Whisker and is to be used in connection with the harbour work of Messrs. Garner, Quetch and Co., in Hongkong. It is some 35 feet long, with a 40 horse power motor and maintains a speed of over eleven knots. The motor engine is of the latest type being a four cylinder Kelvin while there is abundant room for passengers. The trial trip was a very pleasant one and the boat did remarkably well.

HAINAN.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

HAINAN, February 13.

Firecrackers through the night and early morning announce the "Little New Year" which marks the close of the Chinese New Year holidays, and in a few days, best clothes will have been stowed away in boxes or in the pawn shops, and the whole population goes to work again. Farmers have not been able to enjoy their usual leisure at this time of the year, owing to the scarcity of rain. Rice fields are suffering and water should be operated.

The number of pre-New Year thefts was as large as usual this year. Most of the thieves were of the petty sort, taking clothes drying on bamboo poles, cash from stalls, chickens from coops, and skittles from kitchens. Larger robberies, such as armed gangs looting shops in small market towns are also reported.

The Tao-tai of Hainan is about to be transferred, much to the regret of the foreign community, which has appreciated his very friendly attitude.

A large Japanese warship entered the harbour of Haikow recently; a few of the officers came ashore and called on some of their compatriots in a Japanese shop.

Messrs. Wicks and Weeks, of the Canton Christian College, having enjoyed their visit with friends in the interior and after some deer hunting, have returned to Canton. Bishop Langer and two teachers from St. Stephen's College, Hongkong, have been guests at the British Consulate. They were on route for Pakhoi, thence overland to Nanning.

A little daughter has been welcomed at the home of Rev. and Mrs. P. W. McIlstock.

WHAT CHINA SAYS.

WILLING TO CONCEDE SOME DEMANDS.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

London, February 20.

A message from Peking says that China will reply to the Russian Note to-morrow.

It is understood that in her Reply China will not admit the grounds for the complaints regarding free trade in Mongolia; that she will admit extraterritoriality to Russians in China as the right of Russia to establish Consulates when they are commercially warranted, which they are not; that she will not admit the cause of complaint at the attitude of Chinese officials towards Russian Consuls; and that she admits the rights of Russians to acquire land and buildings.

It is further understood that the Reply will declare that China, while adhering to the principles of the Treaty of 1881, cannot agree to their expansion, and that, in view of past relations, the two Powers should welcome the revision of an ambiguous Treaty, especially in view of the material changes in Russian railway and other developments since 1881.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

London, February 18.

A message from Berlin states that the Reichstag has passed the second reading of the Kiaochow Estimates.

In the debate on the Bill, the Socialists demanded the return of the territory to China.

Admiral von Tirpitz, Minister for the Navy, said that the vast majority of Chinese were convinced that Germany was not intent on conquest, and also considered that German civilization was better fitted for them than that of other European Governments. If Kiaochow was surrendered, Germany would surrender her whole position in China.

"THE FOLLIES."

While it was only to be expected that Mr. Henry Dallas would bring a company out East worthy of the name he has so fittingly earned for himself during the several seasons he has visited the colony, yet anyone who has seen "The Follies" at the Royal Theatre can easily realize that the full benefit of his long experience in the Far East has been brought into play in the selection of the individual members of the company, for each one is thoroughly efficient in the art of entertaining. A crowded house in the best of humour again greeted "The Follies" on their appearance before the footlights on Saturday night and the whole performance was a great treat and thoroughly enjoyed. The programme was practically the same as that presented on the previous evening while to-night it will be entirely changed. A capital evening's entertainment is provided by the delightful and talented company and is one that should not be missed.

COST BUT A TRIFLE.

CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

Three Years for Attempted Robbery.

Before Mr Justice Hazlewood, at the Criminal Sessions, in the Supreme Court this morning, Lai Chun alias Ngan Ching Shun was placed in the dock on a charge of attempted robbery.

Mr G. C. Alabaster prosecuted on behalf of the Crown, instructed by Mr H. L. Denny, Jr., from the office of the Crown Solicitor. Prisoner was unrepresented.

The following were sworn in as jurors: A. A. Alves, foreman; A. Davidson, J. F. Barros, J. C. Carvalho, W. C. Drew, J. A. Ismail, I. S. Alabaster.

Mr Alabaster said that prisoner was charged with being found by night armed with certain weapons with intent to commit a felony on a shop in 'Woo U' Street, Hongkong. On the night in question Inspector O'Sullivan was in the street and he saw prisoner and two other men standing in the street. Inspector O'Sullivan went up to them and two men walked away. He got hold of prisoner and when he was searched a revolver, fully loaded in five chambers with five other bullets and a knife were found on him. In the struggle prisoner threw away a gun and a lamp. He was taken to the police station where he made a statement to the effect that a man asked him to go across and rob the Yee Kee shop.

Evidence was called. The jury having considered their decision returned a verdict of guilty and his Lordship sentenced prisoner to three years' imprisonment with hard labour.

A Stiff Sentence.

Ip Yau pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and intent to rob and a sentence of fourteen years' imprisonment with hard labour was imposed by Mr Justice Hazlewood and to be twice whipped with twelve strokes. His Lordship said it was a very serious case for if the man had not been disturbed he would have probably killed the woman.

Kidnapping.

Leung Hong was charged with kidnapping a child belonging to a lamp lighter at Wanchai.

Mr Alabaster said that on January 11, about 3.30 o'clock in the afternoon the child was found to be missing. As it had not returned at 5 p.m. the police were informed and a Chinese constable found prisoner with the child on the s.s. Cheung Chow.

Evidence was called. The jury returned a verdict of guilty and his Lordship sentenced prisoner to five years' imprisonment with hard labour.

An Ingenious Dodge.

A charge of robbery was preferred against Lai Chun, before the Chief Justice Sir Francis Piggott, at the Criminal Sessions this afternoon.

Mr Alabaster said that prisoner was charged with assault with intent to rob, with assaulting a Japanese woman who lived at No. 171 Wanchai Road. On January 10 prisoner and another man knocked at the door and asked if the servant boy was in. They were told that he was not and then went away. Later they returned and forced the door open and got hold of the Japanese woman by the throat. The woman shrieked and the men ran away and prisoner was captured by a Japanese as he was leaving the house. The man got away. On the way to the Police Station prisoner, as he was stooping down on the pretext of fastening his shoe, gaily laid a knife on the ground. At the bottom of the stairs two coils of wire were found. At the Police Station prisoner admitted he was there but denied that he assaulted the woman.

Evidence was called.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty to the direction of his Lordship who sentenced prisoner to three years' imprisonment with hard labour.

Ho Chun was sent to prison for twelve months for receiving stolen goods.

Wong Yau pleaded guilty to larceny and not guilty to receiving stolen goods and a sentence of eighteen months' imprisonment was imposed.

Ip Kam on two charges of kidnapping, one on the other his niece, was sentenced to 5 years' imprisonment. His Lordship said that if the children were restored he would consider the reducing of the sentence.

Sentence Deferred.

Frank Aquino was charged with arson before the Chief Justice Sir Francis Piggott and a jury at the Criminal Sessions this morning. Prisoner pleaded guilty.

Hon. Mr W. Rees Davis, K.C., Attorney General, prosecuted on behalf of the Crown, instructed by Mr H. L. Denny, Jr., from the office of the Crown Solicitor.

Hon. Attorney General said that prisoner was watched for a considerable time and as he was setting fire to a shed he was arrested. The owner of the shed subsequently put the fire out. Prisoner attempted to set fire to some baskets but he denied having any intention to set fire to the house.

His Lordship—There were other offences?

Hon. Attorney General—Yes.

Defendant said he was drunk when he did it.

Hon. Attorney General—It might be desirable to have the state of his mind enquired into.

His Lordship—I should like to have his antecedents enquired into.

Sentence was deferred.

A Burglar's Diplomacy.

Ng Sui and Cheng Wai alias Cheong Fong were charged before Mr Justice Hazlewood with robbery.

The second prisoner pleaded guilty.

Hon. Mr W. Rees Davis, K.C., Attorney General, said that prisoner was charged with attempted armed robbery which was a class of offence which unfortunately at the present time was extremely common and from the records of the court appeared to be increasing at every session.

However they had only to deal with the prisoner before them and to say, in their opinion, whether he was guilty or not. Prisoner with others went to a shop in Wing Lung Street and called out to open the door as someone wanted to buy some money. The cook opened the door and three men entered the house. Two went for the accountant and clutched hold of him and threatened him with a revolver. The cook went to the window and blew a police whistle. Fortunately there was a Chinese constable at the foot of the stairs when the three men ran down. Prisoner played some diplomacy, in fact so much so that it was almost humorous, because when he got outside he represented himself to be one of the folk and actually helped the Chinese constable to arrest the second prisoner, whereas he was the chief actor in the play. The second prisoner was not going to be done and in ordinary parlance he gave the show away. He gave such information to the police as caused the arrest of the first prisoner. On the stairs were found pieces of wire, gags, pepper, knives and all the usual implements of a burglar's stock in trade while when the first prisoner was arrested in his house there were a number of articles used for burglaries.

Evidence was called and the case was adjourned.

Respite Refused.

Ko Cho Po stands charged with offences against section 4 of Ordinance 7 of 1909, and section 75 of Ordinance 5 of 1865.

Mr C. G. Alabaster informed his Lordship that Sir Henry Berkeley was appearing for the defence and he (the speaker) was applying on his behalf that the case should go over to the next Sessions on various grounds. An affidavit had been filed by Mr. Shenton, which stated that the prisoner desired to call in his defence two witnesses who were at present in Canton. They had been sent for, but he did not think they could come down in time for this Sessions. The depositions were only handed to the solicitors of the defendant on the 17th instant, and they had time to instruct Sir Henry Berkeley. The indictment was only filed that morning on, he understood, totally different charges.

His Lordship—Have you any objection, Mr Attorney?

Hon. Mr W. Rees Davis, K.C.—Yes, I don't think this is a case which your Lordship should respite to the next Sessions. My learned friend has been misinstructed. The position I understand to be this. The prisoner was committed for trial as far back as the 10th January last. There has been a change of solicitors in the meantime, and it is really the change of solicitors that is the cause of the present application. As regards the two witnesses in Canton, the prisoner was committed on January 19th, so there has been ample time to get them here.

His Lordship—I must ignore that altogether.

The Attorney-General—As regards the question of depositions, the solicitors could have got them long before.

His Lordship—I don't agree with you there. I think the depositions should have been sent at once.

The Attorney-General—As regards the indictment, as a matter of fact the prisoner was committed by the Magistrate on a charge of false pretences and on a charge of misappropriation of funds. The false pretence charge has been dropped and the other proceeded with so that the defence is perfectly familiar with all the facts. I don't wish to put forward any undue objection to Sir Henry Berkeley's application, but I think he will have ample time by the end of the week to consult his client.

His Lordship—It must come on on Thursday.

The Birch.

Ng Sam was charged with attempted robbery.

The Attorney-General stated that this took place in broad daylight in one of the most public thoroughfares of Hongkong. Prisoner was charged with attempted robbery on the first floor of 215, Des Voeux Road Central, on January 27th.

Some of the men produced a revolver and threatened the owner, who, before being gagged, managed to call out for help. The cry attracted the attention of a man who was going up to the second floor. This man blew a police whistle, and all the intruders, including the prisoner, fled from the premises. They left behind them a book, gags, a sword, and in fact a good deal of the general stock-in-trade of the burglar.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty. His Lordship sentenced prisoner to five years' imprisonment with hard labour, and to receive 24 strokes of the birch.

Another Kidnapping Charge.

The Cai was charged with kidnapping. The jury returned a verdict of guilty, and his Lordship sentenced the prisoner to four years' imprisonment with hard labour.

Yachting.

C.Y.C. RACES.

Yesterday the Commodore's and Vice-Commodore's cups were contested for. The course was Datum Rock (star), 13 miles. There were seventeen starters, and a fair north-easterly breeze favoured sailing.

At the Rock Ayesha and Cornies were sailing in close company, the others following on in this order—Dawn, Sirius, Ashore, Toinette, Erin, Brenda, Thecla, Majorie, Gwen, Dalveen, Spray, Dorothy and Beatrice. On the beat up Gwen had a fine load, but an error in tactics led her into Sulpher Channel, where there was no wind, and she consequently lost her chances.

Ashore won the Commodore's cup and Thecla the Vice-Commodore's.

The boats came in in the following order (corrected times):—

Ashore	...	3	11	40
Thecla	...	3	23	33

Ayesha	...	3	53	18
Dalveen	...	4	3	10

There were also a number of members from the Royal Hongkong Yacht Club who tendered their thanks to the C. Y. C. for their kind hospitality. A capital musical programme of music was given and amongst those who contributed to the success of the evening were Messrs R. E. White, Willocks, Hamer, E. F. G. Orchard, E. B. Ayres, J. M. Irving and Sergeant Sturdie, who gave a number of violin selections. Mr Peel, of H. M. S. Hardy, was the accompanist.

SWATOW NOTES.

(From a Special Correspondent.)

JAPANESE WAR VESSELS.

Our unwarlike port is at present honoured by the presence of two Japanese vessels of war—a cruiser and a gunboat. There is now a considerable Japanese population in Swatow. The loyalty of the Swatow Japanese is not behind that of their compatriots in other places; and on the anniversary of the birthday of the Emperor the town is treated to an exhibition of fireworks for which the Kingdom of the Rising Sun is so famous.

THE FOUNDATION OF SWATOW'S FUTURE.

GREATNESS.

The motto of the second city in Britain is "Let Glasgow flourish by the preaching of the Word." We believe the principle holds good not only with regard to Glasgow but also in Swatow and Amoy and any other place in East or West, that where the Word of God is faithfully preached, believed and acted upon, prosperity, spiritual and temporal, will attend that place.

For almost a year now Swatow has had an extra amount of preaching. First there was a revival as a result of the preaching of the famous evangelist Miss Yin. To speak more correctly it was not due so much to preaching as to quiet talks on Divine things by an unassuming lady filled with pity for the unconverted, and herself possessed by the things of which she spoke. After she left the work was taken up and carried on most vigorously in all the surrounding regions, by men who had come under her influence. The results are everywhere visible, these are such as confession of sin, quarrels made up; diligent study of the scriptures, and a great increase in the amount of preaching done; not only by Missionaries and Chinese Ministers and Catechists but by the ordinary unpaid members of the church.

Lately we had a week of evening meetings for the native Christians in Swatow. The fundamental doctrines of Christianity were clearly and forcibly presented, and the duty of the listeners in view of these doctrines affectionately urged.

The following week a special effort was made to bring the Non-Christian community within sound of the Gospel. The meetings were held at night in the historic Burns Church. This building was erected by the late George Freeland Barbour, Esq., of Bonkoid, Scotland, in memory of that apostolic missionary the Rev. Wm. Burns.

Inside the Church there is a polished tablet of red granite bearing the following inscription:—

"Burns Memorial Church. The Rev. Wm. Chalmers Burns, first Missionary of the Presbyterian Church of England to the Chinese. Arrived in China in 1849. He began the Mission at Swatow in 1856, and after labours in various parts of the Empire, he died at Newchwang 1898. Erected by George Freeland Barbour, Esq., and other friends of the China Mission in Scotland, 1897."

"2 Corinthians 6-20. Revelations 14-13." The idea of holding these special meetings originated in the Swatow Kirk Session, who took up the matter heartily, and immediately appointed committees to arrange for advertising the meetings (3000 copies of an invitation were distributed), receiving the audience and presenting them with tracts.

The decorations were planned and executed by one of the Elders of the Swatow Church. Nicely framed Bible pictures were hung round the walls, festoons of paper flags depended from the ceiling, and above the Memorial tablet crossed flags, Chinese and British, and tastefully arranged evergreens. A powerful Kition lamp hung from the centre of the building and made the place look cheerful and attractive. Each night the attendance was very satisfactory and embraced many of the well-to-do Chinese, which were delivered by the Rev. Dr. Gibson and Rev. P. G. MacLagan, and several of the Chinese Ministers. The addresses dealt with the following subjects and as far as possible were delivered in the following order:—

God's living word has been sown in the hearts of many and we confidently expect it to bring forth fruit in due days.

AN UNFORGOTTEN MURDER

About a year ago, a tashi named Lau Si Ki was murdered in Canton. He had been a member of the society of which Kang Yu-wei was the leader. No very clear evidence could be discovered at the time as to the probable assassin but lately the murdered man's son has been in Peking to try and induce the Government to take steps to open the whole case, with a view to the murderer's discovery.

The Canton Viceroy has now received a despatch from the Court in Peking ordering that further attention be given to the matter. It is alleged by the son that Kang Yu-wei was responsible for the murder. The case assigned was that Mr Lau was in possession of some funds and Kang wanted to get hold of them. The holder would not relinquish what he had, and so assassins were sent who committed the deed. Such appears to be the story of the son. On the other hand, the despatch from Peking points out that there seems to be little or no evidence to point to the implication of Kang. There are two men under arrest now, but there would seem to be no direct evidence to bring the guilt directly home to any one. But the son wants justice, otherwise revenge.

The decorations were planned and executed by one of the Elders of the Swatow Church. Nicely framed Bible pictures were hung round the walls, festoons of paper flags depended from the ceiling, and above the Memorial tablet crossed flags, Chinese and British, and tastefully arranged evergreens. A powerful Kition lamp hung from the centre of the building and made the place look cheerful and attractive. Each night the attendance was very satisfactory and embraced many of the well-to-do Chinese, which were delivered by the Rev. Dr. Gibson and Rev. P. G. MacLagan, and several of the Chinese Ministers. The addresses dealt with the following subjects and as far as possible were delivered in the following order:—
